

Peter Cherepanov Nikolaevich

- My great-grandfather, Peter Cherepanov, was born in 1893 in the Artyk tract of the Nakharsky nasleg. During his lifetime, he was one of the active participants in collective farm production, a front-line soldier.
- In 1911, he started working on a collective farm, and in 1920 he became a Communist. Then his measured life was interrupted by the Great Patriotic War of 1942. He fought stoutly near Moscow. In 1944, he returned from the war with various awards, but also with a severe wound in the leg. And-for which he later died
